Description of corner evidence found:

Set the corner on line with the line fence to the East and road centerlines going South and further to the North. This also fits in the center of road to the North as it is fenced at three rods more or less. This point fits the original notes going a mile to the East to the town line, and also proportionally to the original notes 1/2 mile West and one mile South.

NOTE: If one goes further South past the barn, you can see the old road bed due South of our corner. This road lies East of the existing fence. However, the old road records show that this North-South road was to have been on the section line.
